

THE DUBLIN REVIEW.

5
VOL. XIII. NEW SERIES.

JULY—OCTOBER,

MDCCCLXIX.

PUBLIC LIBRARY,

GEORGE W. B. B. B.

SEP 17 1893

LONDON:

BURNS, OATES, & CO., 17 PORTMAN STREET,

AND 63 PATERNOSTER ROW.

DERBY: RICHARDSON & SONS.

DUBLIN: JAMES DUFFY; W. B. KELLY.

1869.

LONDON :
WYMAN AND SONS, PRINTERS, GREAT QUEEN STREET,
LINCOLN'S INN FIELDS, W.C.

CONTENTS.

ART. I.—THE EARLY IRISH CHURCH.

Strange notion of some Protestants that the early Irish Church was not Roman Catholic	1
Ancient canon cited by Dr. Todd	2
Value of Dr. Moran's works	4
S. Patrick was in communion with Rome	4
And taught her Faith	7
This Faith was preserved in Ireland	9
Letter of S. Columbanus to Pope Boniface	12
Claudius Clemens	15
Other testimonies	17
Irish canons in regard to the Holy See	21
Corroborating facts	23
Summary of the argument	25

ART. II.—AUTHORITY OF THE SCHOLASTIC PHILOSOPHY.

Present Philosophical disunion the greatest intellectual calamity ever suffered by the Church	33
Authority of the scholastic philosophy	37
That philosophy, however, needs considerable additions and some corrections, as Kleutgen urges	40
Reasonableness of deferring to authority on things philosophical	42
The principle of authority the one conserving principle of sound philosophy	44
Means for knowing the Church's judgment on things philosophical	45

ART. III.—THE RING AND THE BOOK.

Mr. Browning's pitiful prejudice against the Catholic Church	48
His absurd mistake about the Molinists	49
The "Sixth" and "Seventh Commandments" of "Half-Rome"	50
Mr. Browning's power as a poet	51
VOL. XIII.—NO. XXV. [New Series.]

Faults in rhythm and taste	52
Dramatic character of his genius	53
Story of the Ring and the Book	54
Its treatment	56
The character of Count Guido	58
Pompilia	60
Caponsacchi	61
Increasing egotism of English men of letters	61

ART. IV.—MILL ON LIBERTY.

Different meanings of the word "liberty"	63
Mr. Mill's various statements mutually compared	64
His scepticism	66
His view on the due exercise of the State's power	70
Are the bulk of mankind to accept no prompter or authority?	73

ART. V.—THE SUPPRESSION OF ITALIAN MONASTERIES.

Singular Providence that monasteries should be suppressed in a country so circumstanced as Italy	76
Fearful spiritual evils thereby engendered	78
General blamelessness of Italian religious	82
Value and extent of Mr. Taylor's testimony	86

ART. VI.—MISUNDERSTANDINGS ON CATHOLIC HIGHER EDUCATION.

Purpose of this article	88
The Month's original statement of its proposal about Oxford and Cambridge	89
The Editor's present explanation	91
The Catholic connection with London University	95
The allegations of controversial unfairness which have been brought against this Review successively considered	97
Answer on various questions of fact	103
Close agreement of principle between the Month and DUBLIN REVIEW .	106

ART. VII.—LIFE OF F. FABER.

Uniqueness of F. Faber's character	109
Excellence of F. Bowden's biography	110
F. Faber's early life	113

State of Oxford when he came into residence	118
His religious character at that time	121
His visit to Rome as an Anglican	125
State of things at Elton	126
His conversion	129
He becomes an Oratorian	130
Extraordinary work done by him in London	132
His literary labours	138
His constant ill-health	140
His short illness and death	141

ART. VIII.—PHILOSOPHICAL AXIOMS.

Contrast of other philosophical systems with the scholastic as to their doctrine of axioms	144
What are truths ?	148
What are first truths ?	149
What are necessary truths, and how related to God ?	150
Are all non-empirical truths necessary ?	156
Axioms first intued in the individual	157
Scholastics never considered experience to be man's informant on the truth of axioms	158
Many axioms are deducible from others	158
Are all axioms analytical ?	159
Are all axioms reducible to the principle of contradiction ?	163
Without necessary truth science cannot even exist	166
Possible reconciliation of Canon Walker and Dr. Meynell	167

ART. IX.—THE REVOLUTION IN SPAIN.

The Duke of Wellington's foresight of the cour of revolution in Spain	169
The history of Spain since 1820 a history of military mutinies	172
The Regencies of Queen Christina and Espartero	173
Prim's enmity to Espartero	173
O'Donnell's accession to power	174
Character of his Government	174
Present state of Spain	175
M. Aparisi's views	177
His character of the Duke and Duchess of Madrid	178
Position of Don Carlos in some respects like that of Prince Louis Napoleon before 1848	179
General importance of the issue at present pending in Spain.	180

ART. X.—A GLANCE AT CATHOLIC HOME POLITICS.

The Disestablishment Bill in the House of Lords	180
Lord Salisbury and Lord Derby	182
The question of Catholic education	182

XI.—ROMAN DOCUMENTS.

185

XII.—NOTICES OF BOOKS.

The Life of Mother Margaret Hallahan	198
Mr. Lecky's History of European Morals	203
Sermons by Fathers of the Society of Jesus	207
Mr. Allies's Formation of Christendom	210
Mr. Hosack's Mary Queen of Scots and her Accusers	214
Cav. de Rossi's Roma Sotteranea	215
M. Gerin's Recherches Historiques sur l'Assemblée de 1682	216
P. Franzelin's De Sacramentis	222
Die Theologische Censuren	225
Das Œcumenische Concil	227
Dr. Gillow on Catholic Higher Education	230
Cardinal Gerdil's Brief Exposition	230
Mr. Maskell's Present Position of the High Church Party	230
The Month	235
The Carlow Magazine	237
The Barnet Magazine	238
Doctor Pusey's First Letter to F. Newman	238
Mr. Cazenove's Some Aspects of the Reformation	242
Canon Shortland's Corean Martyrs	242
Abbé Boudry's Life of Henry Dorié	242
Life of Sœur Marie	244
The Double Sacrifice, a Tale of Castelfidardo	244

XIII.—CORRESPONDENCE.

Canon Oakeley On a Liberal Education in its bearing on Mental Discipline and Culture	246
--	-----

CONTENTS.

ART. I.—THE RELIGIOUS TENDENCIES OF INDIA.

Past and present results of Catholic missions in India	261
Claims of India on English Catholics	261
Non-Aryan races	265
Aryan races, Caste	268
Protestant missionaries.	271
Position and conduct of the Government	277
Scepticism and positivism in Bengal	282
Extracts from the writers of Indian Brahmins, i.e. , deists	286
Catholic missionaries have not appreciated the importance of appealing to educated Hindoos	292
Jesuit mission in Calcutta	293
Catholicity the religious want of India	295

ART. II.—PSYCHOLOGISM AND ONTOLOGISM.

The "Carlow College Magazine"	297
Suggested sense of the word "psychologism"	301
This error subversive of all religion and all knowledge	302
Its contradictory, the scholastic doctrine of intellectual light	304
The scholastic doctrine of abstraction gives no support to psychologism	308
Momentous statement of S. Augustine endorsed by F. Kleutgen	311
Historical sense of the word "ontologism"	312
This doctrine has been condemned at Rome	315
Yet it is a far less fundamental error than psychologism.	317

ART. III.—THE LADDER OF PERFECTION.

Great value of such works as F. Hilton's	319
Mystical and scholastic theology	320
Place of F. Hilton as an ascetic writer	323
His devotion to Our Lord's Humanity	324
Specimens of his method	326

ART. IV.—THE GALLICAN ASSEMBLY OF 1682.

Great value of M. Gérin's researches	328
Lewis XIV. and Napoleon I.	330
Lewis's quarrel with Alexander VII.	331
The Paris Faculty of Theology and the Six Articles	333
The question of the Regale	337
The Assemblies of the Clergy	341
The Assembly of 1682	345
Character of Bossuet	347
The Four Articles	351
Opposition to their adoption	353
State of the Church in France	354
Contest between Innocent XI. and Lewis XIV.	360

ART. V.—MR. TROLLOPE'S LAST IRISH NOVEL.

Mr. Trollope considered as an Irish M.P.	361
His qualities as a novelist	363
Special qualities of his Irish novels	364
Character of Phineas Finn	367
His London life	370
Phineas sacrifices his party for Tenant-Right	373
Analogy to the present state of affairs	376

ART. VI.—CATHOLIC CONTROVERSY.

Reasons for noticing the "Month" article on Liberal Catholicism	377
Naturalism	378
Great respect and tenderness due to the leading French Liberal Catholics	380
True character of the condemned doctrine	382
Doctrine of the "Month" on the extent of infallibility	386
Rejoinder on its reply to our April article	386

ART. VII.—SUBTERRANEAN ROME.

Early investigators of the Catacombs	393
Antonio Bosio's researches	396
Cardinal Mai and De Rossi	398
Dr. Northcote and Mr. Brownlow	400
General character of the Catacombs	403

Contents.

iii

Social condition of the early Christians	405
The Roman law as to burial	407
De Rossi's discoveries	409
The Papal crypt	411
The Art of the Catacombs	413
Immense value of De Rossi's researches	420

ART. VIII.—EXPLICIT AND IMPLICIT THOUGHT.

F. Kleutgen on the non-philosophical knowledge of God, readily attain- able by all mankind	421
Implicit reasoning	425
Implicit thought	428
Distinction between reasoning and argument	428
Vital importance of philosophy	431
Correctness of implicit reasoning is best secured by simplicity of intention	433
Catholic instincts	435
A Catholic atmosphere	436
It is only the few whose business it is to argue	439
Mixed education	439

ART. IX.—THE LANDLORD AND TENANT QUESTION IN IRELAND.

Admitted necessity of legislation on this question	443
The Hunter Murder	444
Effect of the passing of the Church Act	447
Present state of the law of landlord and tenant	448
Improvements proper for compensation	451
Relation of the State to Landed Property	453
Lord Dufferin's argument from the freight paid for shipping	457
Evidence of the Times Commissioner	460
General view of the proper legislation	462
Demand and Supply	464
Estimated value of the Ulster Tenant-Right	466
Question of its extension	467

X.—NOTICES OF BOOKS.

The Civiltà Cattolica	469
Mgr. Dechamps on Infallibility and the General Council	477
Mgr. Plantier on General Councils	480
F. Hunter's Theses	482

Declaration of the Irish Hierarchy	482
Acta quæ apud Sanctum Sedem geruntur	484
F. Ryder's Critique upon Mr. Ffoulkes's Letter	485
F. Bottalla's Strictures on Mr. Ffoulkes's Letter	491
Dr. Redmond's Sermon Essays	494
Mr. Garside's Discourses on Parables	495
Mr. Maskell's Letter to the Editor of the DUBLIN REVIEW	496
Cobb's Few Words on Reunion	499
In Spirit and in Truth	500
Boudon's Hidden Life of Jesus	503
The Hidden Life	503
Mr. Tickel's Life of Blessed Margaret Mary	504
Life of Madame Louise of France	507
Mgr. Dupanloup's Joan of Arc	508
Colonel Hamley's Operations of War	509

XI.—CORRESPONDENCE.

Dr. Melia on our Blessed Lady	512
Dr. Gillow on Oxford Education	515
Dean Stanley and Rev. Mr. Mills	527

CORRIGENDA OF OUR LAST NUMBER.

Canon Oakeley's Letter	531
Letter by the Dublin Reviewer of F. Faber	531